Tax Residency form - 2014 to 2022

Danish banks are required to identify, register and report to the Danish Tax Authority whether their customers are tax residents in countries other than Denmark. Please therefore inform us of the country or countries in which you are or have been a tax resident of since 2014. We also need your tax identification number/-s (TIN).

Being a tax resident of a country means that your total global income is subject to taxation to that country. A person is generally regarded as a tax resident of the country in which he or she resides or spend more than 183 days within a 12-month period. Please note that, for some countries, a person may be considered tax resident even though he or she resides in another country. For example, US citizens living in Denmark are generally required to file an annual income tax statement in the US.

If you don't know what is used as TIN in a your country? Try to search for ("Country name" + TIN) on the internet.

If you are in doubt of your tax residency, TIN etc., please consult a tax advisor or your local tax authorities.
